

I have been a subscriber to XM for almost two years. The primary reason I was willing to pay for this service is the much broader range of choices offered. I tired of the local radio station's rowdy comedic approach to news and morning formats that was prevalent. This was often in poor taste. I travel a great deal and find the traffic and local weather to be a terrrific option as I can instantly get the information I need. It appears the local radio stations choose not to change or compete as evidenced by the attempt to persuade you limit XM's broadcast content. I encourage you to reject the NAB's petition 04-160 and to support XM's ability to provide desired information to listeners who are willing to pay for the service.
